30. Plaintiff request from this court leniency based on Plaintiff's Pro Se status and to ensure a miscarriage of justice does not continue to occur in Plaintiff's case . Pro Se litigants must be ensured meaningful access to the courts, Bounds v. Smith 430 U.S. 817, 823, (1977).Pro Se pleadings are held to less stringent standards than those prepared by attorney, Haines v. Kerner 404 U.S. 519, 520-521 (1972). In Walter Process Equipment v. Food Machinery , 382 U.S. 172 (1965) it was held in a " motion to dismiss, the material allegations of the complaint are taken as admitted and true.

31. Where a Plaintiff pleads Pro Se in a suit for protection of civil rights, the court should endeavor to construe Plaintiffs pleading without regard to technicalities, Picking v. Pennsylvania Railway (151 F2d. 240) Third Cir. Court of Appeals.

32. In Puckett v. Cox, it was held that Pro Se complaint requires a less stringent reading than one drafted by a lawyer, (456 F2d 233 (1972 Sixth Circuit USCA) said Justice Black in Conley v. Gibson, 355 U.S. 41 AT 48 (1957) "The Federal Rules rejects the approach that pleading is a game of skill in which one misstep by counsel may be decisive to the outcome and accept the principle that the purpose of pleading is to facilitate a proper decision on the merits." According to Rule 8 (f) FRCP all pleadings shall be construed to do substantial justice".

33. Plaintiff states that if this court does not grant Plaintiffs a 90 day extension of time, this court allows then also to stand violations of the First, Fifth, Ninth, and Fourteenth amendments of the U.S. Constitution which would certainly not be in the general interest or good.

First Amendment in pertinent part provides:

> The First Amendment guarantees the freedom of worship, of speech, of the press, of assembly, and of petition to the government for redress of grievances.

Fifth Amendment in pertinent part provides:

> " No person shall ... ; ... ; ... , nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; ...."

Ninth Amendment in pertinent part provides:

> " The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

Fourteenth Amendment in pertinent part provides:

> no State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property, with out due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

For all the foregoing reasons, Plaintiffs request that this Court grant Plaintiffs a 90 day extension of time.

Respectfully submitted on this 6th day of March 2007.
